

'1001 Inventions' in Istanbul!

The '1,001 Inventions' exhibition, which has arrived to Istanbul from London, presents the contributions made by the Islamic Civilization to both the scientific and technological world over the past thousand years in an interactive setting.

The exhibition is open to the public in the Sultanahmet Square in a 1,000 meter squared enclosed-area and contains a number of pieces of art which provide a reflection of the heritage of science.